WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The Democratic national committee today upheld the new deal with only one dissenting vote cast by Gov. Eugene Talmadge of Georgia.

Vitriol debate the meeting adopted a resolution by Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, N. J. and acceded by Sen. McCallister of Tennessee.

Chairman Farley called for discussion but no one arose. On the vote there were roars of "aye" and a single clear "nay" in front the Georgia pillars of the new deal.

Chicago and Philadelphia

Philadelphia and Chicago were principal contenders for the convention city with $169,000 bids.

Sen. McAdoo, committee member from California, said San Francisco also would bid plenty.

The decision was expected in the early afternoon.

Vice President Curnutt was appointed vice chairman of the Democratic national committee by Farley.

SEEKS BROAD SUPPORT

Declares Campaign Issue Will Be That of Retaining Popular Government

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—President Roosevelt opened his formal campaign at the Jackson day dinner here last night with the words "the fight goes on against the forces of privilege and greed."

In a conciliatory note that many new men sought "no special advantage," tempered the statement in an implied plea for support of persons of all political affiliation.

He said the 1930 issue will be retention of popular government.

He made only brief mention of A. A. A. health offering, no matter pending further study. The majority and minority opinions of the supreme court he said will attract the likes of Americans for years to come.

Talmadge Absent

Franklin did not attend the 21st year dinner at which the President spoke last night before 2,000 Democrats including the cabinet and senators representative and coalition members.

There were two conspicuous absences including two former Democratic presidential nominees who have figured prominently in

The committee expected to realize more than $50,000 out of the dinner at which the President spoke Mrs Roosevelt spoke to another assemblage but at this time charge was $10 instead of $50

Both Proposals Provide for

By The Associated Press
COLUMBIA, Mo., Jan. 9.—The house finance committee recommended for passage today a bill to Ohio's 1936 relief needs.

Leaders indicated the bill would be voted on in the house later toto vote on its own relief bill appropriating $10,000,000 and differing materially in administrative methods.

Neither house has been able to two bills. The house bill would ap propriate the sum for direct relief per cent of the $10,000,000 for work relief.

Hon Paul P. Yelet, Democratic floor leader declared greed for high salaries hinders demand for more relief funds from the state.

He set four per cent as a maximum for emergency administration costs for relief. Mike Grossman, Guyana county relief chairman has estimated 10 per cent as a minimum and declared he could do better job with per cent.

Says $10,000,000 Needed

Crossman headed a delegation of relief officials. Whittall told the legislature last week that $20,000,000 was needed for relief in 1939.

Yelet asserted that relief officials of three counties received at least $5,000 a year each and added that no relief official should receive more than $200 a month.

It hardly seems fair," he said, for them to be paid this much when thousands of families are asking an allowance on a $20 monthly dole.

Cov Martin J. Davey likewise critic of "professional relief workers" is a strong advocate of budget administration costs for relief. He has urged holding them to two per cent in any program formulated.

The federal emergency relief administration spent about 10 per cent.

The state Yelet said can not continue indefinitely pouring cash

Only 820 Licenses Sold Out of Possible 5,000, Auditor Mounts Reports.

With the deadline for the sale of 1968 dog tags in Marion county 15 days away only 820 tags have been distributed to date out of an approximate 5,000 County Auditor Harry V. Mounie estimated will be sold this year.

The auditor warned dog owners today that a $1 penalty will be assessed those who fail to get their tags by Jan. 20. Dog Warden Elmer Ullom said he will begin impounding dogs bearing old tags on Jan. 21.

Auditor Mounie said a number of owners seem to be under the impression that dogs under six months of age are not subject to license. He pointed out that those three months of age or older must bear tags.

The auditor's office will be open Saturday afternoon for the accommodation of rural residents who find it inconvenient to come to Marion at any other time. Prices of tags remain the same as last year, $1 for males and spayed females, $4 for females and $10 for kennels.

Too Much in Demand.

There is the possibility of embarrassment later on as an indirect result of President Roosevelt's rousing radio oratory last Friday night. An all-time high in demand for the President's speech, his address to congress was almost too successful.

It was made clear than ever that Mr. Roosevelt is the logical workhorse of his campaign for reelection. He will be much in demand—too much in demand, possibly. It would be better if the President could share his burden with one, or two or possibly three other speakers.

Henry Hopkins, PWA administrator, and Secretary of Interior Ickes, it is said, are being considered as assistants to Mr. Roosevelt in the campaign. Though this is somewhat startling in view of recent rumors that both of them, along with Rexford G. Tugwell, were going to be banished to the Isle of Capri or somewhere until the campaign was over, they are good fighters. Maybe they will discover radio personalities within themselves.

The opposition, which is bemoaning its lack of a speaker worthy to cross words and inflections with President Roosevelt, at least does not have to worry about avoiding the danger of putting a one-man team into the field. What Republicans lack in all-American caliber, they can make up theoretically in teamwork. If they are wise—and if they don't fall into any good luck—they will avoid developing one brilliant star.

He might develop a sore throat at some critical juncture in the campaign. He might be employed so frequently in bettering the enemy as to bring on a nervous breakdown. Furthermore, his tactics might become so familiar to the opposition that it could devise an airtight defense to stop him. All such possibilities must be considered by Mr. Roosevelt, unless Mr. Hopkins and Secretary Ickes, both dark horses, unexpectedly blossom out as star hall carriers in their own right.

Right and Wrong.

Neutrality might be defined as the attempt to produce the appearance of something that doesn't exist. It is a theoretical condition in which an individual, a group or nation is neither one thing nor the other.

The United States is nominally neutral in regard to the Italo-Ethiopian war. That is to say it is neither pro-Italian nor pro-Ethiopian, neither anti-Italian nor anti-Ethiopian. Obviously, citizens of the country have taken sides. In a showdown, the government would take sides, since in the last resort the government does what the stronger force of public opinion commands it to do.

In Washington, the senate, munitions committee is investigating the reason why the United States entered the World war. Tuesday, J. P. Morgan, financier, told the committee that his firm "found it quite impossible to be impartial as between right and wrong" after Germany's "criminal" invasion of Belgium.

Here, perhaps, lies the key to the mystery of remaining neutral. Unfortunately, most men are equipped with a sense of right and wrong and a determination to exercise it. It seems plain, therefore, that the only really effective neutrality law which congress could enact would be one to prevent men from taking sides, to prevent them from going to the defense of the underdog and from rushing to the destruction of the wrong-doer. That's a large legislative order, even for the congress of the United States.

In the Realm of Possibility.

As was true in the days immediately following the supreme court's ruling in the Schechter case, which made the industrial recovery act ineffective, the country's interest in the court's decision ruling destroying the agricultural adjustment act is largely of an academic nature. The public again indicates acceptance of the action of the judicial branch of the federal government in vetoing an act of congress. It is arguing the merits of the Roosevelt administration's policy. Some are wondering whether or not the Constitution should be amended to accommodate the present trend toward centralization of governmental authority. Others are heartened by the upholding of the principle of states' rights.

But, in the eventual attitude assumed by the public toward the court's decision in the Schechter case the academic aspect was obscured by the practical aspect.

12 Billions in Red, 4-Year Record

President's Total Expenditure for First Term Will Run Up to About $30,000,000,000.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1934, by The Marion Star

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Twelve billion dollars in the red—and possibly more—is the total of President Roosevelt's four years of federal budgets.

The amount he will have spent in four years will run up to about $30,000,000,000, which is the record for any President of the United States in peace time and closely approximates the total war time expenditure. From 1789 to 1913, that is from Washington to Wilson, the total federal expense was only $24,000,000,000, and this included four wars.

Naturally, the defenders of Mr. Roosevelt will insist that his deficits were necessary because the nation was saved from disaster. The other side will argue that, notwithstanding twelve billions of deficits in four years, the unemployment rolls are still around 8,000,000 persons, and no permanent plan has been devised to take care of the people still on work relief.

Mr. Roosevelt, in his message, does not clearly show what is going to be spent in the next fiscal year. He eliminates the biggest item of all, namely relief, and says that, without relief, he expects a deficit of about $1,000,000,000. The President insists that the deficits have been coming down. Here is the way they look by fiscal years:

1934—$3,282,000,000; 1935—$3,575,000,000; 1936—$3,231,000,000; 1937—$1,968,000,000.

It will be noted, however, that all three deficits thus far are above $3,000,000,000 and that the fourth deficit does not take into account either work relief or the bonus, on which there may be a total of $4,000,000,000 spent. But even assuming that only $1,000,000,000 is spent for work relief and only $1,000,000,000 for soldier bonus in the fiscal year 1937, here is the way the federal expenses have been rising steadily in the same four budgets:

1931—$7,105,000,000; 1935—$7,378,000,000; 1936—$7,645,000,000; 1937—$8,753,000,000.

In other words, the expenses of the government have been on an ascending curve and this notwithstanding the fact that receipts have been increasing because of higher tax rates or better business conditions. Here is the curve showing this upward trend in receipts:

1931—$3,118,000,000; 1935—$3,890,000,000; 1936—$4,411,000,000; 1937—$5,551,000,000.

Now, anybody who has had any experience with a private business knows that there is something to be worried about when the expenses rise higher each year than the preceding year, notwithstanding the fact that the revenues are going up materially each year, too.

If it is contended that all this is necessary on account of the depression, the observer naturally asks why, if business conditions have been improving and the administration has been bringing recovery, should the expenses keep on going up? The President told an audience at Atlanta, Ga., last recovery is here and that he had "planned it that way" and yet in his budget message just sent to congress he is unable to forecast how much money he will need in the coming fiscal year, which begins July 1, 1935.

Mr. Roosevelt promises figures later on; that is, before the present session of congress adjourns. But it is very unusual for the chief executive not to give congress at its regular session a schedule of expected expenses and receipts. The coming election may have something to do with it, as the Democrats may be trying to keep the figures from being used between now and next November, believing that, after the election, a supplemental statement can be issued which will be beyond political attack.

Mr. Roosevelt did another interesting thing in his budget message this year. He estimated the total public debt at the end of the four budgets under his control as reaching $13,351,000,000, but he omitted entirely any mention of contingent liabilities of the government; that is, bonds and notes guaranteed by Uncle Sam and just as much a part of his debt as any other obligation. These amount to an additional $4,530,000,000 or a total public debt of $17,881,000,000.

Nor is there anywhere in the formal budget statement, which is printed in a big volume about the size of a New York telephone directory, any information as to how much of these contingent liabilities will ultimately be directly payable by the government because of a default on the collateral held.

Any corporation which attempted to get the permission of the securities and exchange commission to issue new bonds to refund old ones or to borrow new money would have to certify as to the value of all its assets or have a certified appraisal of some kind.

Nobody outside the treasury knows how much of the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund derived from the gold profit has been used up and how much of the $1,327,000,000 invested in capital stock in various alphabetical agencies and government enterprises will really be repayable, or when.

So far as the recoverable assets are concerned, they are listed at about $3,156,000,000, exclusive of capital stock investments. But here again, nobody outside the government knows whether they ought to be put down at 100 cents on the dollar or at a lower figure. Certainly, no public utility would get away with a balance sheet or a profit and loss statement made up in the form in which the budget statement of Uncle Sam is now given to the American people, who supply, through their deposits in banks, the bulk of the funds invested in government securities.

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK

TODAY—Bryan Would Have Saved Money for U. S.

Testimony by Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan and his partner, that William J. Bryan as secretary of state objected to the American money abroad to finance the big war, and was overruled by Woodrow Wilson, who took pressure to bear and entered into profitable lending by American bankers. There was a commotion or ruckus, on every loan.

Had Bryan been elected, the Woodrow Wilson he would have saved this country ten thousand millions of dollars that it will never get back. It saved the country from the cross spectacle of an American President gallivanting across Europe to enjoy being met at railroad station by King George and Queen Mary, taken to sleep at Buckingham Palace, worshipped as a new savior of the world for a while.

If any other megamillionaire President of the United States ever suggests conscripting Americans in a war not our own, he will be shot for his glory, he will be shot by those Americans: "Go and get shot first and tell us how you like it."

For Jews in Germany

The London-Herald reports ten-million-pound fund, some over $40,000,000, to be raised among Jews all over the world to move all or a great number of Jews from Germany to other countries in a four-year plan. Nothing was more important than such a settlement, if it should prove feasible. It would teach Hitler and his Nazis, in ten years, more about the value of the Jewish people to a nation's commerce and prosperity than they could otherwise in a hundred years.

The amount of money suggested seems inadequate. While the Jews might be permitted to depart, they probably would not be permitted to take with them what they have left. There are 500,000 Jews in Germany, and fifty million dollars, less than $80,000,000 would not suffice to transport Germany's Jewish population to establish it in other countries.

Night Clubs and a Jump

An unfortunate young woman in New York jumped from a window, killed herself, saying, "I body, can put anything over me."

Described by reporters as "one of Broadway's most beautiful blond show girls," she was really, a poor creature and display herself in indecent clothing as part of a night club attraction: "Floor show." She herself after being diagnosed having spent the night "in a round of night clubs with a friend and two gentlemen friends." The night club round trip until six in the morning; the gentlemen friends went home, the miserable girl went out of the window.

She was mistaken in her statement. "Nobody can put anything over me." The stuff that night clubs sell did it.

Automobiles, Telephones.

Signs of recovery, most important are increased sales of automobiles. Increased use of telephones. Mr. Gifford of the telephone company shows that December, 1933, the number of telephones increased 47,845, as against a 21,615 increase in December, 1931.

Automobiles are steadily increasing, the modern American machine marvelous in its ability, security of control and brakes. When times are better men more cheerful they will move around and talk to each other, hence more automobiles, more telephones.

Only Cure!

Greta Garbo is reported sick in her villa in Sweden, to cure throat trouble.

Instead of going to Sweden, talented young lady should go to the roof of her California villa and spend several hours a day with her throat exposed. California's sun, eyes protected dark glasses. Her throat probably have been cured a week. Sunshine is the only cure.

DOCTOR, 85, LOOKS BACK 61 YEARS OF PRACTICE

Monahan Has Worn Out Three Autos and His Night Horseback Rides of Past

Dr. W. H. Monahan, 85, who has practiced medicine in Jackson County for 61 years, is now driving his fourth, his one of those new fangled gear-shift models however and I prefer to drive my old one.

The old time doctor believes that the automobile and paved roads have made the lot of the small town and country doctor a pleasant one. He can recall the days when a call or a rural patient meant an all right horseback ride.

When I first began the practice of medicine he said, "we usually traveled in a six or buggy and in wet weather I was necessary to go by horseback because the roads were so poor that a buggy often mired."

I've ridden a horse at night when it was so dark I couldn't see the animal's head. It often took six or eight hours to make one call in those days, but to be out on an all-night call was just part of the doctor's job.

"Automobiles and good roads have made it fine for the country doctor so I just go right on practicing. I feel better anyway when I have plenty of work to do."

Started in 1874

Dr. Monahan was admitted to practice March 2, 1874. He is the only surviving graduate of his Cincinnati Medical college class of 54 members. He started practicing in Jackson with his father, Dr. A. E. Monahan, a noted Civil War surgeon who held the rank of major in the Union army.

The elder Monahan, one of six brothers, all physicians, performed many major operations in army field hospitals. One was amputation of the leg of Gen. Edward B. Davis, who later became governor of Ohio.

His Terms as Coroner

Dr. W. H. Monahan has remained in Jackson county through out his career. He served six terms as county coroner, a position from which he retired only two years ago.

No physician has practiced in this county as long as I have he said. In the early days of the coal industry miners were continually getting hurt.

Hospitals were few and far apart and I've done many an amputation in the injured man's home.

I guess I've treated about every disease known to the human body and as for assisting babies into this world I lost count of this class of case years ago. They must number far over a thousand and two thousand is probably the correct figure.

Dr. Monahan keeps up with latest medical developments through constant study of scientific treatises and journals.

An ardent sports fan he reads the sport pages every day and is recognized as the local authority on batting and fielding averages of all top notch baseball players.

He is a heavy smoker but abstains from alcohol.

The Stars Say--

For Friday, Jan. 10

ACCORDING TO the lunar and mutual aspects, this should be a day of great gain and rejoicing with much attending in the way of pleasure and enjoyment. But be circumspect in such indulgence as let a day be cause for reflection. In a business there may be very profitable deals with costs is with those in power and authority.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a very happy and progressive year with profitable contacts in business with important persons. In such transactions have an eye to possible fraud or misrepresentation.

A child born on this day may be very gracious and pleasing thereby increasing its popularity both in a social way and in business where it will attain success and position.

Your Health BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Sun in Winter

During the summer months all of us are more or less sun-conscious. Tempted by the charming weather everyone makes some effort to obtain quantities of sunshine. It may be because somebody is anxious to obtain a coat of tan but regardless of incentive to get into sunlight great benefits follow regular exposure to the wholesome rays.

It is too bad that many overlook the value of the winter sunshine. It is true that the rays of the sun are not as strong during the winter months but that means greater effort should be made to get their benefits. Sunny days are fewer too and should be made use of by everybody.

It is important to health to expose the body to the beneficial action of the sun in all seasons. As a rule most of us spend too much time indoors during the winter. To deprive the body of an abundance of fresh air and sunlight is a short cut to ill health.

The tremendous value of sun light has been known for centuries. It is only within recent years however that science has discovered the real value of the ultra violet rays. There is no doubt they have a definite influence on the health of our bodies.

Sunlight may be compared to food. It has a stimulating effect upon the nutrition of the body and aids in normal growth and development. It multiplies the action of the vitamins which are taken in the food we eat.

Medical scientists are very sure that the vitamins are essential elements in the maintenance of good health. When the foods are rich in them especially vitamin D, the body is assured of a certain amount of the same effect as is produced by the ultra violet rays.

During recent years experiments have been conducted to show the value of irradiated foods. By this I mean foods which have been exposed to the ultra violet rays. Such foods as milk, vegetables and even cereals are now being subjected to this irradiation process.

There are various methods now in use for getting the health giving ultra violet ray. No doubt you are familiar with the ultra violet lamp. It has great value but let me take this opportunity to warn against the indiscriminate use of the sun lamp. This treatment should never be taken unless under the personal supervision or advice of a physician.

Harding To Meet Mansfield Team Here Friday Night

ST. MARY GAME WITH ADELPHI POSTPONED; RURAL TEAMS BUSY

Ten County Schools and Several District Squads Prepare for Tilts

High school basketball teams throughout the city, county, and district are ready to get a hot office this week and have their choice of a wide variety of interesting games.

Harding High will play the Mansfield High Hawks Friday night at the school gymnasium in the second round of the North Central Ohio league is scheduled.

The St. Mary-Adelphi game which was to be played Saturday night at the Adelphi gym has been postponed until a later date. Word to that effect was received here this morning from D. B. Noble, a former Mansfield coach who is now coach at Adelphi. The game was postponed because of a precautionary measure against the spread of scarlet fever after several cases were reported at Adelphi.

St. Mary will play in a Sunday afternoon game at Port Clinton with St. Wendell.

Boys and girls teams from 10 county rural schools will continue league competition in games set for Friday night. Prospect High's undefeated girls team will play at Kirkpatrick. Other games in the county league are Marietta at Pleasant Glendon at Lakewood and Green Camp at Morral. No league game is scheduled this week for LaRue.

Interesting district games to be played Friday night include the following: Harpersburg at Marietta, Cardington at Mt. Vernon, Wood at York, Central Mt. Vernon at Forest, Ashland at Mt. Blanchard, Leipsic at Mt. Vernon, and Willard at Port Clinton.

All six members of the North Central Ohio conference will be active in league play Friday night. While Mansfield invades Marion, Galion will play at Ashland and Mt. Vernon will entertain Shelby.

Marion Mt. Vernon and Ashland won opening league games last week over their respective opponents. Shelby Galion and Mansfield Harding High registered a decisive 40 to 25 victory over the Whitehall last week on the Shelby court. Both of the other two league contests were hard fought battles and ended in close scores. Ashland registered a final quarter victory over Mansfield 27 to 20. The Mt. Vernon Yellow Jackets defeated Galion High 21 in 10. Junior varsity teams from all 10 C. O. schools will compete on the same schedule in preliminary contests.

At 73, Connie Mack Faces Task of Rebuilding Club

At the tender age of 73 the venerable Cornelius McGillicuddy or Connie Mack if you will, is faced with the unenviable task of rebuilding a wrecked baseball team.

Mack who has developed more diamond stars than any living man has nothing but memories to remind him of the great players whom he has coached and managed. The genial patriarch of baseball pilots into adult to the last of his famous stars when he told the husky Jimmy Fox down the river to Boston for a large chunk of cash. Mickey Cochrane Al Simmons Lefty Grove and now Fox—all the celebrated luminaries of Mack's pennant winning machine of a few seasons ago—are now no longer wearing Philadelphia uniforms.

The Athletics present rather a sorry spectacle with the departure of all these brilliant performers. Philly fans can be counted on to stay away from Shibe Park in large numbers next season but before blaming Mack for selling his stars it must be remembered that the club failed to make money during its last two pennant years and patronage has steadily declined since then.

Connie is far from discouraged at the gloomy prospects ahead of him and is already building for the future. In Wally Pones he has developed a great young player who bids fair to be as bright a star as any of the departed Athletics heroes.

MARION JUNIOR HIGH TEAMS BEGIN 1936 CAGE TILTS TONIGHT

Edison Building Squads To Play on Vernon Heights Court, Schedule Given

Marion city junior high school basketball teams will begin their 1936 season schedule tonight when the Thomas A. Edison Junior High team plays on the Vernon Heights court. The game will be at 7:30 p. m. and will be a friendly one. The Edison team is coached by P. A. Garvin, principal of the Vernon Heights school and chairman of the junior high school athletic commission.

The game originally booked for Saturday Jan. 11 was postponed because of other activities. Tonight's game is the first of the three junior high schools will participate in league play on a schedule which will bring each two teams together twice. The third school competing, Central Junior will open its league schedule at the Edison building, Jan. 18.

The league controlled by the junior high athletic commission composed of coaches and principals of the three schools is operating under a new set-up this season. Previously each school entered three teams in the league one from each grade. This year however a varsity and a reserve team will represent each school.

In addition to Chairman P. A. Garvin the controlling committee is composed of W. L. Orvitt, principal of Central Junior High, J. E. Frew, principal of Vernon Heights Junior High, Howard Hoffman, Central coach, C. H. Hannabush, Edison coach, and Eugene Auld, Vernon coach.

Non league contests for both the Edison and Central schools have already been scheduled with the St. Mary Parochial Junior team and with alumni and faculty teams. Similar games for the Vernon squad are to be announced in the near future.

The completed league schedule for the junior high teams is announced by the commission follows: Jan. 9 Edison at Vernon, Jan. 18 Central at Edison, Jan. 24 Vernon at Central, Jan. 31 Central at Edison, Feb. 7 Edison at Central, Feb. 14 Central at Vernon.

PLAYERS GET GOOD NEWS IN FORM OF PAY BOOSTS

Red Sox Settle Differences With Fox, Gets New Contract and $25,000

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The Boston Red Sox have settled in a friendly manner one problem that loomed to be a sore head for owner Tom Yawkey and manager Eddie Collins.

They tore up Jimmie Fox's old contract which will have two years to run signed him to a new three-year document regularly at a somewhat higher salary and pushed the threat of a holdout that might have had a serious effect on the club.

Before the Athletics sold him to Boston Fox had announced he would demand a higher salary if traded. After a brief conference in Yawkey's office yesterday, he accepted a reported figure of $5,000 instead of the $7,000 he was understood to have received from the A's.

With Fox in line it is expected Boston will have little trouble signing up its other stars. He is expected to be the Red Sox key man playing in a park especially suited to his slugging style.

Since he came up to the majors years ago Jimmy twice has won the American league most valuable player prize. He established a mark of 58 home runs in 1932—falling two short of Babe Ruth's major league record—and compiled a lifetime batting average of .339.

Yawkey denied that Boston was contemplating a trade with the New York Yankees involving Roger Cramer, another recent acquisition from the Athletics.

There isn't the slightest chance of its trading Cramer for Ben Chapman, he said.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 9.—Pete Crouley, president of the Cincinnati Reds, announced today that the club will start its spring training on an island in the Gulf of California.

Marion Fans See O. W. U. Stop Ohio U., 37 to 25

A multitude of Marion basketball enthusiasts trooped to Delaware last night to witness the experienced Ohio Wesleyan university basketball team down the Ohio university quintet 37 to 25.

Enthusiasm among Marion fans was heightened by the fact that Maurice Whittem, well known local athlete, is now filling a varsity berth on the Ohio U. team.

It was the opening game in Ohio Wesleyan's drive for its second Buckeye conference championship and according to an Associated Press report, Buckeye coaches and Ohio State representatives scouted the game closely.

Wesleyan got off to a 4-0 lead and at half time was ahead 15 to 10.

The Bobcats came back with a rush and held a 19-10 advantage in the third period but Jack Wesleyan guard made two field goals and a free throw to regain the lead and hold it the remainder of the game. Fulus successful on numerous long shots in the second half was high scorer with 21 points. Rinta Bobcat forward made three field goals and three free throws for nine points. Whittem scored 14 points.

OHIO TRAPSHOOTER HEADS TOWARD SOUTH

"Sparrow" Young, 75, Hopes To Be Handling Gun When He's 100

By The Associated Press
SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 9.—Charles A. (Sparrow) Young, an American grand old man of the trap, is heading south toward the flying club target.

The 75-year-old veteran plans an extensive campaign during the next two months.

I hope to be shooting over the traps when I'm 100, he said as he started his trip.

Early this week he missed out by just one target in defending his Ohio south central championship and now he is in Reading Pa. for a live pigeon shoot.

Young won the national live bird shoot years ago at the World fair in St. Louis and since then has taken practically all the honors the trap-shooting world boasts.

In 1907 he won the Grand American handicap with a perfect score 100 out of 100 from the 30 yard line. Only one other perfect score has been shot in the Grand American and that from the 19-yard line leaving Young as the premier performer.
